NEW QUESTION: 2

A software interface to the operating system that implements access control by limiting the system commands that are available to a user is called a(n):

- A. Restricted shell
- B. View
- C. Interrupt

D. Physically constrained user interface

Answer: A

Explanation:

Answer Interrupt refers to a software or hardware interrupt to a processor that causes the program to jump to another program to handle the interrupt request. Before leaving the program that was being executed at the time of the interrupt, the CPU must save the state of the computer so that the original program can continue after the interrupt has been serviced. *A physically constrained user interface is one in which a user's operations are limited by the physical characteristics of the interface device. An example would be a keypad with the choices limited to the operations permitted by each key. *View refers to database views, which restrict access to information contained in a database through content-dependent access control.

NEW QUESTION: 3

Northern Trail Outfitters assigns a 15-digit integer as their Order ID which will be used as the primary key of a data extension. The import file contains leading zeros, but they will NOT be included in the final values.

Which data type should they use for the Order ID field?

- A. Text (15)
- B. Decimal (15,2)
- C. Number
- D. Decimal (15,0)

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation

The order ID field is conducive because it places all of the items that the customers want under one order. You can imagine how problematic it would be if the rules would be set in different areas. It will be harder for the company to track the orders of each customer.

This may lead to people receiving items that they did not order or not getting any of the things that they have ordered at all. The order ID field will make everything more organized and correct. The fewer mistakes that the company makes in processing orders, the happier the customers will be with their shopping experience.

NEW QUESTION: 4

What is the main tool for users accessing the Cloud?

- A. remote desktop
- B. the firewall
- C. the web-server
- D. the web-browser

Answer: D
